Short Synopsis

Three members of an Israeli military rock band wake up to discover that the Israeli army has withdrawn from Lebanon and left them behind enemy lines. Without any combat experience and a guitar as their only weapon, they must find their way back home.

Long Synopsis

As the Israeli Defence Forces pull out of Lebanon in May 2000, after 15 years stationed there, Shlomi, Asaf and Kobi, three members of the military rock band, get left behind. Mixed up in a major drug smuggling scheme orchestrated by their corrupt commander, the three are left stranded and clueless in "no man's land" between Israel and Lebanon.

Caught between a gang of Hezbollah fighters one side, and disgruntled members of the South Lebanon Army on the other, the three soldiers must find a way to return to Israel without any combat experience and a guitar as their only weapon.
